THIS IS A CEMETERY

"Lives are commemorated - deaths are recorded - families are reunited - memories are made tangible - and love is undisguised. This is a cemetery.

"Communities accord respect, families bestow reverence, historians seek information and our heritage is thereby enriched.

"Testimonies of devotion, pride and remembrance are carved in stone to pay warm tribute to accomplishments and to the life - not the death - of a loved one. The cemetery is homeland for family memorials that are a sustaining source of comfort to the living.

"A cemetery is a history of people - a perpetual record of yesterday and sanctuary of peace and quiet today. A cemetery exists because every life is worth loving and remembering - always."

INTRODUCTION

For the last few years, I have been collecting information on people buried at Bluff City Cemetery. Most of the information is condensed from obituaries published in local newspapers. I spent many hours searching through microfilm looking for obituaries of people buried at Bluff City. I may have missed some and for that I apologize. I would suggest you verify the information by looking up the actual obituary if you have some question about it. I could have made a mistake in recording or typing the information.

Other information comes from family research done by various individuals or from personal knowledge I have of some people buried there. At the end of each entry the source of the information is given. Inscriptions found on some grave markers are shown in red.

The names are listed in alphabetical order. The information is current as of May 31, 2021.

Information is very scarce for some people who died when the Bluff City area was first settled. According to a marker in the cemetery, the first person to be buried there was Charlotte Howard Fresby (or Frisby) in 1863. There are also many unidentified graves in the old section of the cemetery usually marked with a sand rock.

If you have an obituary for someone buried at Bluff City that is not included in this booklet or if you have other biographical information on a person, send it to me and I will add it to the file. I can only add the basic information due to the space limitations.

A lot of useful information can be obtained by studying the obituaries that give family relationships. This can be helpful in doing family research. Of course, the newspapers only printed what the family gave them to print. Sometimes there are errors in obituaries, but usually the information is pretty reliable.

Since this is an active cemetery, there will be more people to add as time goes on. If you check the note on the first page, you will see the date when the file was last edited.

Hopefully, this information will be of some use to the families of the people buried at Bluff City. If you have comments, corrections, or information to add, feel free to contact me.

Speak to me in the same easy way you always have. Laugh as always laughed at the little jokes we enjoyed together. Play, smile, think of me, pray for me. Life means all that it ever meant. It is the same as it always was. There is absolute unbroken continuity. Why should I be out of your mind because I am out of your sight? I am but waiting for you, for an interval, somewhere very near. Just around the corner, all is well. Nothing is past. Nothing has been lost. One brief moment and all will be as it was before—infinity happier. We will be one, together forever.” –Justin
